The best restaurants with pools in Tuscany

Bambaissa, Versilia

In Forte dei Marmi, Bambaissa – the restaurant of Augustus Beach Club – has few rivals. It's the place to be in Versilia. 2022 has seen the arrival of Roman chef Giovanni Giammarino, a former orchestra director and who now directs kitchens. “My goal is exalting the prime quality ingredients I use,” he tells us. “I use them to create recipes in the Mediterranean tradition, but with a modern take”. Don't miss the squid, stuffed with dried-tomatoes pesto, and sea bream ceviche with orange and tosazu vinegar. Also, Omaggio a Marchesi – Gualtiero Marchesi's recipe of cold spaghetti with lemon and caviar, to which almonds soaked in sparkling water for 24 hours are frozen, dried, and turned into a homogeneous foam in the Pacojet. You can book a tent to spend the afternoon on the beach or in the swimming pool.
